

If you were teaching remotely under the similar circumstances to those of the 2020/2021 academic year, and you decided to administer an exam online, how likely are you to use online exam proctoring tools?

